A Tradition Worth Keeping At Appalachian

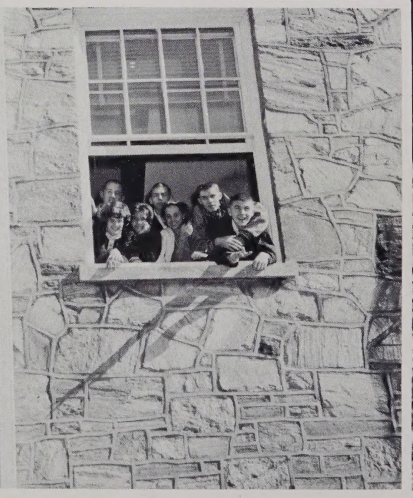

At Appalachian students come seeking many things. Each brings an assortment of beliefs and ambitions by which each student's life is patterned. We bring together our values to form a common ideal.

Days at AHS are numbered--both for those who sought and found and for those whose quest is yet unsatisfied. Cherished thoughts are many as we recall our rewards for work well done, our enthusiasm for extracurricular activities, and our goal for graduation. Each day brings another challenge, another trial, or an attainment. At AHS we have an obligation to school, teachers, parents, and to ourselves. The story of what we have done and what we are doing to fulfill this obligation is told in the words and seen in the pictures of this book.

This, then, is the story of our last year at Appalachian High School.

From the Student Body President . . .

Outstanding at Appalachian High School is the spirit of co-operation in which students and faculty work together. What student is not heartened on a dark day by a friendly smile or a word of praise from a teacher? And what teacher is not encouraged by an extra word of thanks at the end of a hard day? Without this student-faculty co-operation, we could have no football or basketball games, no College Day, no proms, no clubs; in fact, we could not have had a wonderful year in 1964-1965.

Appalachian High School is a building, but it takes more than a building to make a school. It takes people--people who are willing to stick together, to work together under all circumstances. We at Appalachian High School believe that we have these ingredients in the composition of our school.

DEDICATION

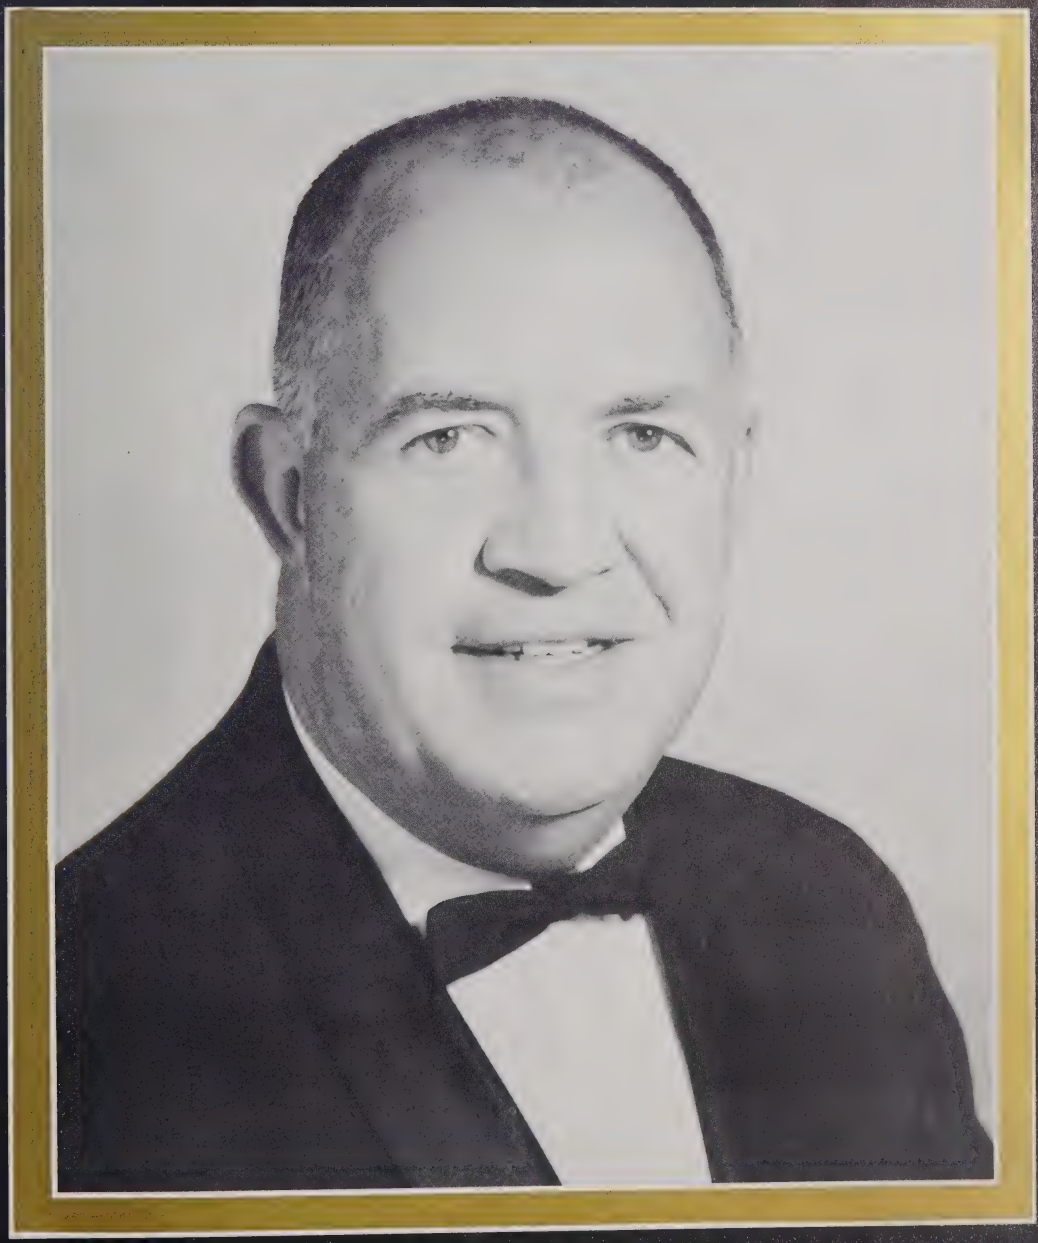

Gracious . . . giving . . . dedicated to teaching. He desired for us that we accept the challenge of learning . . . to strive . . . to seek . . . to find.

His dream was a vision of truth that revealed itself in many ways. We found him not only in academic life at Appalachian High School, but also in extracurricular activities. Besides instilling a knowledge of United States History into our minds, he helped to make our Junior-Senior a success and worked diligently to make our football team regional state champions. Without him our dream could never have been fulfilled. Yes, we have found a teacher who possesses a pleasing combination of all the fine qualities that make a person outstanding.

So ably has he led us that we feel it an honor to dedicate our 1965 LAUREL to

From the Editor:

The age in which we live offers a privilege for service to those who are well prepared. We, who are graduating from school, find ourselves in the midst of these vast opportunities. May we think of the years spent at Appalachian High School as the initial period in our preparation for the opportunities that lie before us.

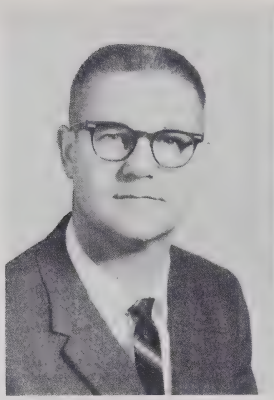

The time has come for us to part. As we leave these portals of Appalachian High School, we leave behind the cherished memories that endeared us to our Alma Mater.

As we move on to blaze new trails, may we stop and cherish once again these memories. As we pause, may we think fondly of these activities and organizations that helped us to establish them.

This yearbook we offer to the 1965 graduating class of AHS. Many years from now we may want to relive these days spent at our dear Alma Mater.

ADMINISTRATION

The faculty member may not live to see the seed which he has planted blossom into a bearing tree, but it will come.

From the Principal's Desk:

My congratulations to each of you as you complete a stimulating stage of your life. Within a short while, you will participate in a ceremony of recognition of your accomplishments of the past four years. Your parents, your friends, your teachers share your just satisfaction.

Yet, if you have truly profited from your education, you will recognize that you have only begun to learn. The discovery of truth proceeds with a pace that one who ceases to study becomes very soon an unlearned man.

So I challenge you that each time your memories of Appalachian High School are recalled by thumbing through this book, you replenish your store of intellectual curiosity and your zeal for knowledge. Take down a book from the shelf, imagine yourself in conversation with your favorite teacher, and maintain your place in the community of scholars into which you have been initiated.

Truly, then, you will remain a part of Appalachian High School.

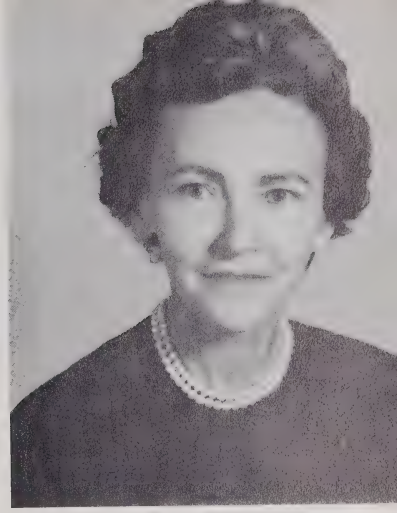

Sincerely yours,

Roy R. Blanton, Principal

MR. JACK GROCE
Assistant Principal

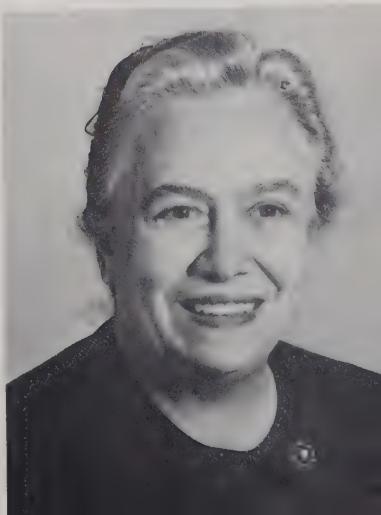

Our assistant principal, Mr. Groce, assists Dr. Blanton in his duties and is also head football coach par excellence. AHS is very proud of one of the best won and lost records, not only in the state, but in the entire nation in scholastic high school football. This admirable record has been accomplished under the fine coaching of our assistant principal, Mr. Groce. However, his success has not affected his personality in the least. He is always modest; cautious; and often, a little pessimistic in his remarks about the team. Coach Groce has always stressed sportsmanship over winning. This is not to say that he is against playing to win; he believes that winning helps to build character. We will always be proud of Coach Groce and the enviable record he has set for AHS.

MRS. MARGARET GRAGG
Guidance Counselor

With so many problems about their futures, students at Appalachian High School keep the guidance office always busy. Mrs. Gragg is ever ready with skill and experience to help guide us through the troubled years of high school. More than once she has headed us in the right direction so that our dreams may some day become a reality. Mrs. Gragg is also advisor to the Student Council.

ENGLISH

Freshmen, looking ahead toward four years of English, see ominous mountains of themes, vocabulary lists, and book reports. Young sophomore orators reciting "Friends, Romans, countrymen" at the cafeteria show that school is really under way. To juniors, English means reading, reading, and more reading. Seniors reading "Whan that Aprille" to themselves announce that Beowulf, Chaucer, and Shakespeare are comforting seniors simultaneously. But students who apply themselves in their English classes are confident of future success.

Under the supervision of an outstanding reading specialist, AHS offers a remedial and accelerated reading program.

The language laboratory has proved to be a success with all the classes in developing the students' conversational abilities.

LIBRARY

A studious atmosphere is a quality offered by Appalachian High School's library. The books are easily accessible to the students. Comfortable furniture and quietness stimulate reading and research. Mrs. Randall, ever ready with skill and experience, helps us with reference materials as well as keeping us up to date with latest in novels, newspapers, and magazines.

MUSIC

This is one of the finer arts offered at AHS. Through music stories are told, feelings are expressed, and emotions are released. Members of the Chorus discover that conscientious work and practice, inspiration and enthusiasm, produce music that has even Mr. Wilson bragging. The band is proud of the half-time shows and concerts which Mr. Shugert trains them to play with precision and beauty.

MUSIC

Music, the universal language is copious like the mighty Pacific and flows unceasingly through the doors of Appalachian High School.

Our lovely head majorette, MISS PATTY SUE SPENCER, has planned and co-ordinated the precision routines performed by the majorettes for the halftime shows.

Under the leadership of our Drum Major, MR. BRUCE OLAND, our marching band has performed at each football game. He has contributed much to make ours an outstanding band, both in concert and in marching.

THE TRAVELERS

Two groups which have been inspired by the chorus call themselves the "Five Teens" and "The Travelers". These groups have performed in chorus programs and talent shows and have added much enjoyment to the performances. These groups of boys and girls have enjoyed the hard work of learning to sing new songs; but most of all they have enjoyed the companionship and friendly atmosphere that are always present when a group is working together for the enjoyment of themselves and those who hear them.

The "Five Teens" are made up of Dinah Lanning, Donna Cook, Sandra Winebarger, Carolyn Tatum, and Wanda Jones. The "Travelers" is composed of Johnny Cook, Jim Reary, Dennis Perry, and Barry Faries.

AHS GIRLS' CHORUS

Achieving the rich and full tones typical of a girls' chorus is no easy task as many of these girls could tell you. With the aid and assistance of Mr. Wilson, these musically minded girls of AHS have gone far towards improving their style and tone. AHS BLUE DEVILS REGION AA STATE CHAMPIONS

Once again Appalachian High School has rolled its way to another Regional AA Championship. The season has proved to be very successful for the Blue Devils, who were predicted by most experts to finish far from the top. But under the direction of coaches Jack Groce and Bob Poe, the Devils have brilliantly put down all opposition. The closest squeak for the Blue Devils came with their game with the North Carolina School for the Deaf.

The success of the team cannot be linked to one player, but it must be said that the eleven on the field played as one. Team spirit, determination, and hard work have paid off for the Blue Devils as they gained another regional state championship.

PROUD FOOTBALL COACHES — MR. JACK GROCE and MR. BOB POE

Appalachian High School can be proud of one of the best won and lost records, not only in the state, but in the entire nation in scholastic high school football. During the past ten years, it has a total of 98 wins, 3 ties, and 13 losses.

This admirable record has been accomplished under the fine coaching of Mr. Jack Groce. Coach Groce believes in educating his players in the basic fundamentals, and he demands that they stay in good physical condition. He may employ brilliant psychology or sharp words to produce an all-out effort from his players. Mr. Groce also has a knack of putting his players where they are the best talented and has produced some outstanding players.

For the past two years, Coach Groce has been ably assisted by Mr. Bob Poe. Mr. Poe came to us from Florida and has been a great asset in helping to produce winning teams at Appalachian High School.

AHS WRESTLERS SET U.S. RECORD

Coach Steve Gabriel

by Linda Smith

AHS wrestlers have set a national high school record for consecutive wins in high school competition.

The Blue Devil team hit the big time here on Monday, January 11, 1965, when it defeated Christ School of Arden, North Carolina, 46-10 for its 131st straight dual meet.

AHS tied the national record of 130 consecutive wins by defeating the Griffith High School team on Thursday, January 7. Mephan High School of Merricks, Long Island, New York, had held the record for a number of years. Since the wrestling program was initiated 12 years ago, the Blue Devils have not lost a dual meet.

High School wrestling, begun in 1952, is the brainchild of Coach Steve Gabriel. In four short years he built a wrestling power-house which lost the state championship to Greensboro High School by a single point-103-102, in '56.

From 1956-60 AHS won four state championships consecutively; and one year, 1959-60, the school had seven state champions out of the twelve weight classes. The Blue Devils lost the state championship, 1960-61, to Thomasville High School, again by a one point margin.

For the last three years, the team has ruled the wrestling ranks of North Carolina, taking the state championship each year. It has been the North Carolina high school wrestling champion for seven of the past eight years.

This competitive record was gained against all levels of competition since wrestling in North Carolina is in the Open Class, that is, no rank or class is given according to the size of schools.

Coach Gabriel is the dean of high school wrestling coaches in the state. At the age of 35, he is one of the most highly esteemed coaches and officials in the state. Mr. Gabriel's team hopes to set a new record that will stand for many years.

Lee Stroupe, a promising Sophomore, is pulling a stand-up on Freshman Harry Yates. Both of these boys are fine wrestlers and should be worth watching on next years team.

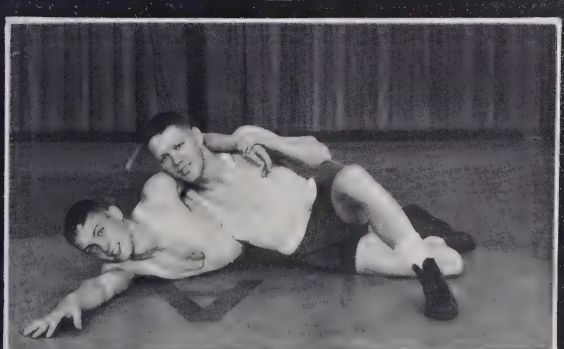

Johnny Cooke, third in 103 lb. class at state last year, is shown here demonstrating the cross-body ride for 95 lb. state champion Stanley Carroll.

Seniors Harold Hodges and Larry Hayes are demonstrating the switch, when it is being blocked.

Wade Coffey and Weldon Critcher are shown here demonstrating the wizer. Both of these boys are Seniors with fine records for the season.

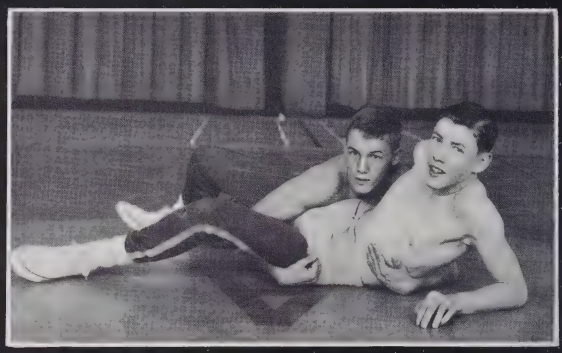

Senior Co-captain Gary W. Hodges is shown demonstrating a pinning combination with Sophomore wrestler Scott Stanbery. Both should do well in the District and State Tournaments.

CLASSES

The Students' outlook on life is one of expectation. Many are the thoughts, dreams and aspirations of their tomorrow. Some of these are forgotten while others live on.

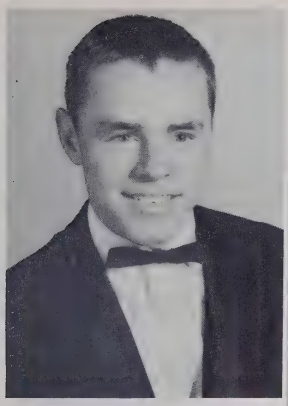

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

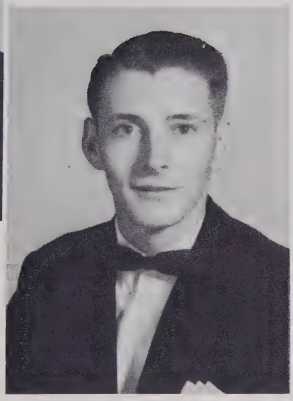

Jeff Brown President
Jackie Roten Vice-President
Jeanette Wagner Secretary-Treasurer
Kay Greene Reporter

It is with a certain pride that the senior thinks of his last year in AHS. It is a year of memories--memories of happiness and disappointments. The four years of high school begin to take on a special meaning as he gazes back on them. As he thinks of his past successes and failures, as he begins to realize more fully than ever the values which he has developed at least in part as a result of the academic, social, and spiritual experience of high school living, he approaches the doorway to mature adulthood.

Ted Brown Reporter

By the time a high school student has finally reached his junior year, he usually is well adjusted to high school life. He knows what subjects he wants to major in, and he is beginning to think of a possible future vocation. During their junior year, many students receive honors and special recognitions for their past years of service or academic excellence. The Beta Club, the "A" clubs, the paper staff, and other honoraries induct juniors into their membership.

Our junior sponsors are Mr. J. H. Harvey, Mr. Harlan Ledford, Miss Kate Peterson, Mrs. Cynthia Stiles, and Mr. Eugene Wilson, Jr.

Sue Zowadski Reporter

Sometimes the sophomore wonders exactly what his place in high school life is. He is no longer at the bottom of the ranks, but neither has he reached the exalted status of an upperclassman. Nevertheless, he finds his second year in high school a challenging and rewarding one. He begins to take a more active part in extracurricular activities, he becomes more and more concerned with his own role as a citizen, and he begins to find that studying is really an important part of his responsibility.

Our sophomore sponsors are Mr. Robert Poe, Mr. Verlin Coffey, Miss Elizabeth Elliott, Mrs. Betty Wells, and Mr. Jim Campbell.

Few experienced students can forget the first hectic weeks of the freshman year. Achievement tests, get-acquainted parties, movies and talent shows, schedule-preparing all seem overwhelming and even frightening to the new Appalachian High School student. But soon the freshman begins to settle down to a gradual process of adjustment to the novel aspects of high school life. He makes friendships in his classes, and he attempts to budget his time for club meetings, dates, ball games, and even some occasional study.

Our freshman sponsors are Mrs. Betty Hughes, Mr. Hubert Hall, Miss Bobbie Pearson, Mr. Bill Ross, and Mr. J. C. Tester.
